

*Jane Phillips
Medical Center
is a community
of people dedicated to
delivering quality,
cost-effective,
compassionate
care...responsive
to the needs
of those we serve.*

The history of Jane Phillips Medical Center traces back nearly 89 years. Washington County Memorial Hospital was opened in 1922—the product of a community effort to pay tribute to the local veterans of World War I.

In 1952, Jane Phillips Hospital was completed. Built by the Frank Phillips Foundation, the facility was named in memory of Jane Gibson Phillips, wife of Frank Phillips, legendary founder of Phillips Petroleum Company.

Jane Phillips Hospital was operated as a community facility until 1958 when it was deeded to the Episcopal Diocese of Oklahoma.

In 1969, voters approved a referendum which allowed county commissioners to lease the equipment and the facilities of Memorial Hospital to Jane Phillips Episcopal Hospital, thus streamlining health care services in the Bartlesville area.

Today, Jane Phillips Health Corporation is sponsored by St. John Health System, which operates St. John Medical Center in Tulsa. This partnership helps our patients by ensuring access to the most sophisticated levels of care available in this area. This affiliation has strengthened the entire Jane Phillips Health Corporation and has positioned us to serve people in our region well into the future.

Jane Phillips Medical Center offers a wide range of services, including general medicine, surgery, cardiopulmonary care, maternal and infant care, cancer treatment, orthopedics, medical imaging, occupational medicine, wellness, and physical rehabilitation.
